Bridge School/Tuition Centers

Study station where Children are taught were installed in various locations. Infrastructure was set up for running tuition and facilitators were appointed. These facilitators also work as mobilizer and motivator for holistic development as well. All these remote areas included communities which were illiterate and were interested in education.

Educating the children from the slum was a tough job but seeing the change in the children and in the society has made this goal worth investing in for the long term.

Summary:

The SEED was able to achieve many things through different initiatives this year. We were able to cater the needs of many poor and marginalized families in different locations across our country. Many needy women were able to raise on their own through skill development training programs in villages. Hundreds of poor children were helped with their educational needs and holistic development through various extra-curricular activities.

We could conduct a good number of Social training programs and workshops for the social workers and volunteers through which they are motivated to work for the betterment of the society. Hundreds of families were able to overcome poverty through income generation project.

As an organization we hope that the projects make a difference in the community and this is our success. We look forward to more opportunities to serve the community and make a difference in the lives of many.
